CHIANTI CLASSICO GRAN SELEZIONE 2018

Available from 2023

Marcelo Copello 100% Sangiovese, aged for 18 months in large barrels. Garnet color, from light to dark. Very intense, mineral aroma, well-defined fruit, cherries, raspberries, toasted bread on the finish. Very fine palate, medium-full body, very fine tannins, balanced acidity, soft structure, great balance, 14.5% alcohol. With a Gran Selezione like this, no one needs Brunello! Drinking window up to 2030.

CHIANTI CLASSICO GRAN SELEZIONE 2018

Robert Parker Wine Advocate Packaged in a chunky glass bottle with a bright orange label, the Tenuta Casenuove 2018 Chianti Classico Gran Selezione represents this estate's highest quality of Sangiovese. This wine works especially well in terms of balance with dark fruit and wild cherry that is contrasted against sweet spice and grilled herb. The wine's concentrated, velvety and medium to full-bodied approach is one of the trademarks of Panzano in Chianti. Production is limited to 1,150 bottles.

Strawberry and spice with a dusty nose. Juicy palate and good oak integration with a liquorice finish. Beautiful.

2018

Jeb Dunnuck The 2018 Chianti Classico Gran Selezione pours a saturated red color with a magenta tinge and offers layered aromas of polished leather, black cherry liqueur, licorice, and wildflowers. Medium to full-bodied, it's elegant and graceful on the palate, with ripe tannins that take on a plush, velvety feel, fruit that hovers weightlessly, and a bit of turned earth on the finish. It has an attractive cooling lift that is well-balanced, and it has a nice touch of mouthwatering freshness as well. Drink 2024-2034.

James Suckling Open and aromatic, with sliced oranges, cherries and flowers. Powdery and chalky. Medium-bodied with creamy tannins that are wonderfully integrated and a long and beautiful finish. Very pretty. Drinkable now, but can age for as long as you like. Drink or hold.

Antonio Galloni Vinous The 2019 Chianti Classico Gran Selezione is the best of these new releases from Tenuta Casenuove. Silky and aromatically expressive, the Gran Selezione emerges from the glass with scents of sweet pipe tobacco, cedar, mint, wild red cherry and orange peel. This mid-weight Gran Selezione is nicely done.

Tony Wood Pale ruby red in colour with dark pink undertones. Bouquet fruity and lifted, violet and bluebell florals assist. Blackberry, plum, wild cherry, cedar shavings, white smoke, a whiff of espresso, sweet tobacco and distant candied orange peel. Palate is soft, balanced and in harmony. Fresh acidity drives the engine. Long and wide on the close.

James Suckling Lovely crunchy and bright fruit with orange peel, spices, cherry blossoms and red cherries. Ever so subtle and fresh. It's medium-bodied, linear and bright with a energetic and primary fruit finish. So drinkable now, but will be even better in a few years.

Raffaele Vecchione Memories of wild strawberries and ripe strawberries intoxicate the glass. In the background, rose petals, face powder, magnolia blossoms, and burnt sage. On the palate, full-bodied, well-polymerized tannins, and a taut finish.

CHIANTI CLASSICO GRAN SELEZIONE 2021

Jancis Robinson Panzano. 100% Sangiovese from the Sopratorre vineyard. Deep crimson. Minerally, savoury and meaty notes over peppery, deep cherry fruit and hints of tobacco leaf. A little austere on the palate with fully dry cherry fruit, lots of acidity and gripping tannins. The whole still needs to settle. (Walter Speller) 14.5%
